BUCKEYE COACH REFUSES OFFER OF TEXAS POST

"Not Interested", Is Sam
William's Reply In Latest Rumors

KEEPS SILENCE ON FUTURE PLANS

Ohio State Mentor Again
Becomes Center Of
Sports Gossip

Rejecting the offer of a football coaching position at the University of Texas, Samuel S. William, native of Salem and head gridiron mentor at Ohio State university for five years, today again became the target for the wagging tongues of the Buckeye State's sports gossips.

"I'm not considering the Texas job and I'm not interested in it," was Sam's reply to questions shot at him Tuesday afternoon after Texas university officials announced that they had offered him the head coaching position at that school.

Future Doubtful

William's future as to his status with Ohio State continued very much of a mystery, for Sam, under fire since Oct. 21 when his strong Buckeye eleven lost its only game of the season to a great and unbeaten Michigan squad, has maintained a discreet silence through all the pyrotechnics of which he has been the center since that date.

His present contract with the Scarlet and Gray does not expire until next June 30 and while the greater portion of Ohio State gossips and alumni insist that it will be renewed for another year, there are also insistent rumors that it will not be renewed and that, in the very near future, too, he will be requested to resign.

Repeatedly, however, similar reports have been circulated that William would resign on such and such a day. The day came and went and "Sad Sam" has not resigned.

Back William

Nor has he given the slightest indication that he intends to resign. Alumni organizations in Cleveland, Springfield and Cincinnati have gone on record as backing the former Salemite and contend that, if William is forced to quit, he would automatically be lifted to the position of a man sacrificed on the altar of victory-mad institution. Buckeye teams in the last two years, playing against some of the nation's greatest collegiate eleven, have lost but two games.

As popular as "Salem Sam" may be throughout the state and as numerous as his friends and backers are, his opponents, through editorial attacks and gossip on the Ohio

Ask That City Be Prepared To Meet Fund Opportunity

Citizens Urge Filing of Projects For CWA,
PWA Aid

SEVERAL LISTED AS POSSIBILITIES

Proposals Probably Will Be Discussed With City Council

Stressing the need of immediate action if the City of Salem and its citizens are to benefit permanently from the nationally instituted CWA and PWA movements, through which federal funds are made available to labor and to the construction of public buildings, a group of representative citizens, meeting last night in the city hall, took initial steps in what likely will be a project-preparedness program.

It was the consensus of the gathering that the city should be prepared for any eventuality; that it should have projects on file with the CWA or the PWA in order to take advantage of whatever funds may be forthcoming in the future.

Against More Debts

City officials generally have been conservative in the filing of projects in view of the fact that on construction programs where materials are necessary, the city must provide money. In this respect the municipality is not in a favorable position and officials have indicated no desire to increase the public debt.

However, it was agreed that if it is possible at all to provide projects, action should be taken, inasmuch as fund allotments are made on a county basis, speakers pointed out, and in the event the city does not take advantage of some portion of the available money, some other section of the county will and all tax payers will share in eventually meeting the cost of the program.

Among more than a half-dozen possible projects discussed at last night's meeting, three were outstanding. These including a municipal lighting plant, for the purpose, primarily, of providing current for street lights and for city buildings; a swimming pool; and a new city hall.

Just what the city could do toward providing its share of the money essential in each case is doubtful, speakers pointed out.

Storm Sewer Urged

The construction of a storm sewer for the east end of the city was advanced as a useful project and the widening of North Broadway was deemed an improvement that would be well worth while.

The moving of tennis courts and the improvement of the ball diamond at Centennial park also were listed, along with the leveling of sidewalks, where needed.

The committee took no specific action on any of the proposals but, probably, representatives will discuss at least some of them with council.

City Solicitor Lozier Caplan presided at last night's meeting at which the public schools, women's clubs, the city government, industry and other branches were represented.

Legion Auxiliary Relief Continues; Give 150 Garments

The American Legion auxiliary is continuing its relief work here this winter and the president, Mrs. Paul Probert, announced today that 150 used garments had been given out the last month.

The welfare work of the unit is in charge of Mrs. James Primm and Mrs. H. P. Litty.

The members dressed 13 dolls, and these, with 16 toys, which had been reconditioned, were distributed to children in needy families at Christmas time.

Each Thursday the women will meet at the home, East State st., to sew. They are making up new material into garments, which will be given to needy persons.

At the unit's meeting Tuesday evening it was planned to have a guest night meeting on Tuesday evening, Jan. 23. A special program of entertainment is being arranged and a lunch will be served.

On Feb. 6 the auxiliary will hold a benefit card party, open to the public, with prizes and refreshments. The proceeds will be used for relief work.

Farm Meet Planned

A meeting of Perry and Butler Townships' Farm bureau will be held Thursday evening at Willow Grove grange hall, North Georgetown rd.

Police Free Madwoman, Jailed By Husband and Housekeeper

Detectives Probe Strange Tale Surrounding Imprisonment of New Jersey Woman

(By Associated Press)
RIDGEFIELD PARK, N. J., Jan. 10.—Detectives strove today to piece together the strange story surrounding the imprisonment of a naked madwoman in a dirty, unheated closet-like room over a stable on the old Barnes estate.

The woman, Mrs. Sophie Cerardi, 42, pronounced insane by a county physician, meanwhile was receiving medical attention at the county hospital.

Two Jailers Held

The two other characters of the strange tale, the two alleged jailers, Joseph Cerardi, 34, the woman's husband, and his housekeeper, Miss Mary Griffin, 35, were held on charges of false imprisonment.

Much police interest centered on the husband, who police said was questioned in the Lindbergh kidnapping case after the body of the murdered Lindbergh baby was found.

Cerardi, also known as Gerardi, rented the four-room apartment above the stable, almost two years ago. Neighbors told police they saw his wife arrive with him and she was then apparently in good health.

When police found her, she had wasted away to 50 pounds.

When Cerardi was arrested, police said he acknowledged keeping his wife locked up, but denied mistreating her. He said he had taken her from a state institution where she had been committed as mentally unbalanced and was keeping her with him "for her own benefit."

Police entered the case at the request of Mrs. Cerardi's sister, Mrs. Loretta Regenstruf, of New York, who complained Cerardi had repeatedly refused to allow her to see her sister.

Insured for $10,000

Prosecutor Nathan Ailyn said Mrs. Regenstruf had also informed him Cerardi had insured his wife's life for $10,000.

When police went to the barn, the housekeeper first refused them admission, relenting when they threatened to break down the door.

Mrs. Cerardi was found huddled, naked, on the bed, gibbering wildly. Both windows in the cubicle had been boarded up, and the bed was the only article of furniture in the room. A soiled blanket was thrown across the bare, dirty mattress.

Cerardi gave his occupation as a bootblack.

Cerardi was Mrs. Cerardi's second husband, police said. She was divorced from a New York lawyer named Joseph Maran, by whom she had one son, Charles, now 22. Charles lived with Cerardi but officers were not able to locate him.

LaBelle Deposits

Filed As Evidence

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 10.—Fred A. LaBelle, former director of the Mahoning Valley sanitary district, made private bank deposits of $139,000 over a five-year period while the district was building a $10,000,000 water supply for Youngstown and Niles, it was shown by bank ledger sheets and deposit slips introduced by the state today in trial on a charge of embezzlement.

LaBelle's salary was about $10,000 a year.

The state introduced vouchers made out for various amounts in the names of 15 men, none of whom, it was asserted, the prosecutor's office had been able to find.

CLOSED BANK TO PAY OUT $83,323

Kensington State Bank
To Issue Dividend of 75 Per Cent

LISBON, Jan. 10.—Payment of a dividend of 75 per cent to those having claims against the Kensington State bank at Kensington has been approved by Judge W. P. Lones, the proposed distribution being approximately $83,323. Claims totaling $111,097.85 have been filed with the court.

This will be the first dividend that this bank has been permitted to pay since it came under the supervision of J. J. Fulton, superintendent of state banks.

Recently the court approved an application for this institution to borrow $70,199.26 from the RFC, and this opportunity to make the loan was granted after representatives of the RFC reviewed the existing situation at this bank.

Greenford Woman Hurt As Car Skids

Mrs. E. J. Cook, 40, Greenford, who sustained a minor injury in an automobile accident about 10:30 p. m. Tuesday near Greenford was brought to the Salem City hospital for first aid treatment and then returned to her home.

According to reports of the accident the automobile in which Mrs. Cook was riding with her husband, skidded off road into the ditch and was turned over. Mrs. Cook has a deep laceration on the left side of her face. Mr. Cook escaped injury.

UNITY YOUTH, 10, SLIPS BENEATH TRAILER WHEELS

Richard Nutter Instantly
Killed Enroute To School Today

SHERIFF QUIZZES DETROIT DRIVER

Latter Exonerated; Victim Believed to Have Slipped On Ice

His head crushed when he slipped and fell under the wheels of a trailer, Richard Nutter, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nutter of Unity, near East Palestine, was instantly killed at 8:30 a. m. today.

The boy left home to walk to school and had planned to stop at the home of his grandmother for a short visit. He was walking west on the right side of the highway.

He is believed to have slipped on ice at the side of the road just as a truck and trailer, driven by John Kleitch of Detroit, also proceeding in a westerly direction, passed him.

Both wheels on the right side of the trailer are believed to have passed over the youth's head.

Kleitch, accompanied by a helper, J. C. Elchbright, also of Detroit, continued, unaware of the tragedy, he told Sheriff Frank Ballantine. He was stopped one mile west of Unity.

Ballantine, Assistant Prosecutor Frank Springer, Coroner E. R. Sturgis and Deputies Roy Lewton and George Hayes joined in investigations of the case and at an inquest held shortly before noon a verdict of "death resulting from an unavoidable accident," exonerating Kleitch, was issued by the coroner.

The victim is survived by his parents, two sisters, Marian and Margaret, and a brother, Donald.

TOLEDO, Jan. 10.—Payment of approximately $1,360,000 to depositors of the closed Ohio Savings Bank & Trust company will start tomorrow.

This sum is an additional five per cent dividend made possible by a loan of $1,000,000 from the RFC. It will increase to 30 per cent the amount paid to depositors in dividends, or more than $10,000,000.

The bank closed in August, 1931, at which time it had more than $37,000,000 in deposit liabilities, which with payment of this dividend will be cut nearly in half.

Mayor, Governor In Verbal Duel

Governor Lehman Mayor LaGuardia

"The budget cannot be balanced with an essay," was one of the stinging phrases with which Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York replied to Governor Herbert Lehman's denunciation of his demand for the enactment of statute giving him almost dictatorial powers over the city's fiscal affairs. The Governor had designated the Mayor's demand as "unnecessary, un-American and dangerous."

LEGION GROUP WINS CITATION

Presentation to be Made
At Steubenville Meeting Tuesday

Citations for "most distinguished service," issued by the national headquarters of the American Legion to the posts equalling their '32-'33 membership by Nov. 11 (last) will be presented at a district meeting tomorrow evening in Steubenville according to information received from District Commander Harry Vogelsson of Toronto by Ray Pearce, commander of Charles H. Carey post, 58, of Salem.

Pearce will head a delegation of Salem veterans to the Steubenville meeting where the local post will be one of a group to be presented the citation.

Under the direction of Commander Pearce, Charles H. Carey post has achieved top ranking in the tenth district in membership increase.

As a result, it has the edge so far, on all other posts in the district for the honor of having "Elmer" as its "honorary guest" at a proposed banquet. The contest ends March 1.

"Elmer" is the name given to a hog, which will be presented, for banquet purposes, to the post showing the greatest membership results in the tenth district. In the interim, the lowest post must feed and care for "Elmer". He is now at Creston.

Join A. Elden of Cleveland, past department commander, will make the chief address at the Steubenville meeting.

Approximately 25 members of the Salem post attended the county council meeting at East Liverpool Monday evening at which Wesley Masters, liaison officer, Veterans administration, Cleveland, discussed the workings of the bureau. Wilbur Melling of Leetonia, chairman, presided. The next meeting will be held in Leetonia. The date has not been set definitely.

And so, was taken the latest step in the protest of nine "conscientious objectors" to military training.

Dr. Rightmire informed each of the students individually that he would see them again tomorrow. After that, he said, he will issue a statement on the action the university will take in an effort to settle the latest controversy over military training.

At the same time, Dr. Rightmire disclosed that he had written a letter to the parents of each of the boys, explaining the university's position in the matter.

Projected Flight Long-

In Formation

CLEAR WEATHER IS PREDICTED

Six "Standby" Ships To Guard Route Planes
Will Follow

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Six huge navy seaplanes poised here today for a hop at noon across 2,150 nautical miles of the open Pacific to Honolulu—the longest and most hazardous overwater formation flight ever attempted.

The take-off was definitely set for 12 o'clock (Pacific Standard time—3 p. m. in Salem), by Lieut. Com. Kneffler McGinnis, squadron leader, so that his command might take the earliest possible advantage of existing favorable weather conditions.

Sea Is Smooth

Beyond Hawaii a storm was blowing up, but between Honolulu and the mainland the sea was "smooth as glass."

A delay beyond the noon hour, McGinnis said, "might mean the loss of this most favorable circumstance."

Each plane was loaded during the night with between 700 and 1,000 gallons of gasoline, and after a late inspection each was pronounced ready.

McGinnis predicted a landing at Pearl harbor by noon (Pacific Standard time) Thursday, or even earlier, if there is a tailwind. On the other hand, headwinds might delay the arrival until sunset.

Every one of the six officers and 22 men who constitute the crews of the six planes was reported eager for the big adventure. They flew their ships 600 miles from San Diego yesterday, landing near at 4 p. m. and were confident of success of the longer hop.

Ready to aid them in the event of accident enroute were six "standby" ships, strung out along the line of flight between San Francisco and Honolulu.

Nearby position 600 miles east of Honolulu was the aircraft tender Wright, with Rear Admiral A. W. Johnson aboard. Three hundred miles nearer the island was the tender Pelican.

Classes In 'Math', Kindred Subjects Prove Attractive

The formation in Salem of nine mathematics and other classes as part of Columbiana county's emergency school project was announced today by H. W. Lautenbach of Damascus, teacher in the school organized here this week.

Much interest is being displayed in the classes, with more than 100 persons enrolling for opening sessions. A schedule was arranged and classes began functioning immediately.

Since Lautenbach was the only teacher available, plans for the formation of classes in various subjects were deferred until additional instructors can be obtained. Subjects for which teachers are needed are physics, chemistry, mechanical drawing, auto and airplane mechanics.

Only unemployed, certified teachers can receive pay for this work. Others, however, may volunteer their services.

Persons wishing information on the various subjects and courses or in commercial and home art classes previously organized, or those interested in organizing additional classes are requested to confer with Louis P. Krauss at the courthouse in Lisbon.

The schedule to be followed for the recently formed classes follows:

Industrial economics, enrollment indefinite, Wednesday and Friday, 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., in Room 109.

Advanced mathematics, 24 enrolled, 5-6 p. m., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; Room 304.

Physics, 14 enrolled, 7-8 p. m., Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday; Room 303.

Slide rule, 33 enrolled, 8 to 10 p. m., Monday, Wednesday; Room 304.

Mechanical drawing, 7 to 9 p. m., Thursday and Friday; Room 103.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Among intellectual flowerings following repeal is the mental urge for knowledge about wines. Owen Wister and Julian Street, both novelists, are reputed best informed on their proper usages. But they belong to a somewhat older generation. The wine drinking era of Depew, Morgan and Berry Wall.

The oncoming generation is totally ignorant as to the significance of such names as Bourguet, Chateau-Chaton, Monbazillac or Haut-Brion. And whether they are red or white, sweet or dry, still or sparkling. Wines had two classifications to them—"Dago red" and spiked cider dubbed champagne.

Sudden establishment of wine bins in homes where they had been abandoned for a new hobby for wealthy folk. They are having fun in the new diversion of racking shelves with rebooms, jeroombs, magnums, quarts and imperial pints in geometrical array.

Every swank hotel has re-established the wine steward with the chained key circling his neck. Many have been brought from London and Paris and others off the liners. The most notable understanding of wine in hotels is Oscar. He knows 200 vintages by smell.

Paragraphic throw-back for those born in the 80's and 90's: Trading flour sacks to the grocer for candy, corn silk cigarettes that gave you "yellow janders"; the long, narrow mud-slides from the river bank into the water for swimmers; salt sacks on cistern spouts to catch the wiggle tails; deliciously tart May apples; hog's head jelly and Frank Read's extravagant exaggerations.—Submarine, Iron Horse and Flying Ship. Such crazy ideas for young boys!

The vivacious young theatrical lawyer Fanny Holzmahn has realized the ambition of most lawyers—to practice law and see the world. Among her clients is Noel Coward and many other British playwrights and she is forever going up the gangplank for here and there. She is a Brooklyn girl who is at home in the shooting lodges of Scotland, the London first night and Paris salons. A satisfactory exemplar of the new freedom of women.

Jimmy Walker has little need to worry about his financial future. He will be eligible for a pension of $12,500 a year for the rest of his life when he reaches his 55th milestone. He is nearing 53. As Jimmy resigned his job he has no cause for alarm over a pension. Only impeachment prevents it. Right now if he needed money he could arrange immediate settlement in a lump sum. His anxieties are thus not financial but for his health never robust.

Sixth avenue's carnival hand-dandy grows increasingly tumultuous in the 40's. Penny curio hags, fortune tellers, shooting galleries and the like are now augmented by an undersea exhibit and an incubator show in the way. The Hippodrome has incited circus to add to the medley. The busiest time is after-theater, when crowds stroll by to listen to the catch-penny carols.

Hollywood's newest and shyest celebrity is blushing Max Miller, the "I Cover the Water Front" author. He has become an intimate of Charlie Chaplin, with whom he attends rounds of parties. And Collins Clement says Chaplin always stands on the author's foot to keep him from crawling under rugs and things.

Horror note: Paducah, Ky., which has a cigar, hat, laundry, big hotel, office building and river excursion steamer named for Irvin Cobb now has a beauty salon called Irvin Cobb.

"Irvin Cobb Beauty Service," for goodness sake!

There is a blustery swagger about those wide-shouldered, belted camel hair overcoats with incredibly large pockets. I see Gene Buck, Ben Ali Huggin, Floyd Gibbons and William Gaston swirling along in them and begin to feel hartschaffnerish.

Today I barged from a Madison avenue togethery with the loosest I could find, double breasted, hugely pearl buttoned and jauntily pleated in the back. I've been side-glancing slyly in the mirror at intervals since. But I don't make the grade. Nothing will give me the savoir-faire of the tweedy voyageur. The nearest I get to tweediness is a sort of tweedle-de-dee!

A group of Salem people went to Winona Thursday night and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walton. They made the trip in a sled.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Chalfant, Lincoln ave., entertained 12 friends at a dinner party Friday evening at their home.

The Stars Say:

For Thursday, January 11

The planetary configurations bearing rule on the affairs of this day would seem to indicate a high state of mental tension or excitement, with the faculties rather keyed up in high achievement, either in the employment of others or in enterprises and projects of one's own initiative. Sound judgment and cool decisions will favor these as well as encourage the as-

Treatment for Common Skin Ailment

Recently I have received several letters requesting information about what the writers described as "crusted" and "scaly" inflammation of the skin. This annoying affliction is known medically as "pityriasis." It is a disorder of the fat-producing glands and is most frequently encountered at the age of puberty.

There is an increased or decreased secretion of the skin glands. This leads to an oily, crusty or scaly condition of the skin. As a rule the forehead, cheeks and nose are involved. The skin is oily and it appears dirty because particles of dust stick to the surface.

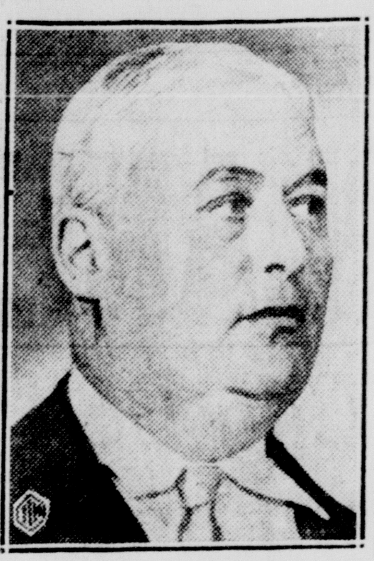

Occasionally there may be an accumulation of yellow or grayish scales. These appear upon the scalp or perhaps the non-hairy regions of the body. Sometimes the roots of the hairs in eyebrows, mustache and beard are covered with these scales. Many have the mistaken idea that dandruff is a disorder of the hair. In reality it is a disease of the scalp and is a form of pityriasis. When confined to the scalp it produces what is commonly called dandruff. Medically, it is given a big name, "seborrheic dermatitis." It usually accompanies increasing baldness and constantly falling hair.

Cause a Mystery

As is true of many other disturbances of the skin, the actual cause of pityriasis has never been discovered. It is probable that the affliction is the result of some glandular disturbance. It is of interest to learn that pityriasis is more common in women than in men, and is more apt to be found in dark-complexioned persons than in blondes.

Many cases of pityriasis have been traced to lack of cleanliness of the skin, as well as faulty health habits. For example, it is a common skin affliction among persons who lead sedentary lives, indulge in little exercise, and avoid fresh air and sunlight. Such cases are quickly cured when the health habits are corrected.

Diet in the treatment of pityriasis is an important factor that must not be overlooked. Since the disease is occasionally seen in persons afflicted with tuberculosis, anemia, and other constitutional disorders, it is imperative that the diet of the sufferer be carefully planned. The food should be simple, nutritious, and contain the necessary vitamins so essential to good health. In every possible way the general welfare of the body should be promoted.

When the proper measures are taken and a suitable lotion applied to the skin, cure can be expected. This lotion should be prescribed by the physician. Bear in mind that what is beneficial for one skin may be irritative and harmful to another skin. The crusts and scales should first be removed and a stimulating and astringent ointment then applied.

“KNAVE’S GIRL” By JOAN CLAYTON COPYRIGHT 1932, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

“For a moment,” mused Julian, “I was afraid that you were forgetting that you aren’t free.”

“I could walk out this very instant,” the girl assured him indignantly. “You know I could. So what do you mean when you say I’m not free? I’m as free as the air.”

“I meant,” observed Haverholt, “that you aren’t free to walk to Clark’s. He seated himself beside her, said, ‘You’d better listen to the rest of my story, sweetheart. Marthe and Clark quarreled over you.’”

“Over me?” she echoed.

“The bust-up came when Marthe told Clark that she was sure you weren’t my niece. Clark refused to believe such a calumny and so—”

Haverholt spread his hands.

“That’s not true!”

“How did you find it out?” demanded Patricia, only too certain now that Julian spoke the truth, but fighting to the last.

“Marthe told me. I’ve been talking to her on the phone—quite a conversation that!”

“Why should Marthe call you?”

“She had a couple of reasons,” observed Haverholt, delighting in this conversation. “For one, I think she would like to make me Clark’s successor—perhaps I shouldn’t say it but I do. For another, she had hopes that I might give her the goods on you.”

“Don’t talk like that,” interposed Patricia in sharp and wounded tones.

“I must. You’ve got to face the facts, Patricia; you might as well do it now as later. Marthe is positive that she had met you somewhere under a different name. Where was it, by the way?”

“At Eileen Spcott’s,” muttered the girl mechanically.

“The pork-packer’s widow,” mused Haverholt. “I remember, I met you there myself. Too bad that Marthe’s memory is so good. Still, at that, it might be better!”

Patricia hardly heard him. She felt tired, cold. The situation had got beyond her. She experienced a kind of wretched wonder that she who had been so proud, who had wanted so passionately a life of graciousness and dignity, should be involved in this. Incredible that she should fear the truth.

She said bitterly, “I hate that girl.”

“Marthe,” remarked Julian mildly, “Marthe doesn’t seem to care for you.”

Patricia clasped her hands together, looked up at the man from beneath a drift of shining hair, seeming in her simple, round-necked frock so pathetic and so youthful that Julian felt his own gleeful triumph lessen.

“What can I do now?” she whispered.

“Sit tight,” he said promptly, yet a shade uncomfortably. “If Clark telephones—and he’s bound to—refuse to see him.”

“No,” she put in suddenly, valiantly. “There’s only one thing to do. I’m going to tell Clark the truth.”

“That won’t help now.”

“It might help me.”

“Almost any man,” remarked Haverholt deliberately, “hates to be made a fool of. Some men, if it is put to them right, will overdo a breach of morals. I’ve never met with any who would forgive being made a fool. Clark broke with Marthe defending you. How do you suppose he’s going to feel when he learns that Marthe, whatever her motives were, told the truth about you?”

“She didn’t! She couldn’t!” cried Patricia in anguish. “Nobody knows the truth except you and I.”

“Sometimes even I find it hard to credit,” it seemed fantastic somehow that that arrangement is as innocent as it is. I marvel at your confidence, I really do. Now, I for one, would never expect anyone to accept the simple truth. But, then,” he ended, “I’m worldly minded.”

“You—” stammered Patricia. “You—” She broke off, resumed

“I meant,” observed Haverholt, “that you aren’t free to walk to Clark.”

in a trembling voice “The trouble with you is that you don’t want Clark to believe me.”

“Certainly I don’t,” he agreed. “Why should I desire the course of young love to run smooth? When the time is ripe for me to put a spoke in your wheel, be sure I’ll put it there. I’m not rooting for Clark. I’m prejudiced, naturally. You sweet little simpleton, I want you myself!”

“Please leave,” said Patricia. “Please leave!”

He obeyed. There was only one thing to do. The girl rose and went to the telephone, dialed Clark’s number and then, without waiting for a response, replaced the receiver and burst into tears. There was only one thing to do. She could not do it.

Later downstairs, Haverholt asked her politely if she had heard from Clark.

“He telephoned,” she admitted, facing him with hostile, defiant eyes.

“Do you plan to see him?”

“That’s my affair, not yours.”

“Since I’m bound to learn sooner or later you might as well say or have you fallen into the habit of secrecy?”

“All right then,” she replied white-lipped, her chin held high. “I’m dining with him tonight.”

“So you haven’t told him,” commented Haverholt in an odd sort of satisfaction.

“I’m going to tell him tonight.”

“I hope, my dear, that you have a lovely evening,” said Haverholt, regarding her. “Too bad I won’t be around to pick up the pieces.”

“Your absence won’t break my heart,” replied Patricia, triggly, turning at once to leave.

“You don’t dislike me that much,” the man said quickly.

“I dislike you as much as I possibly can.”

“Is that fair?”

“I don’t know what’s fair any more,” she admitted, suddenly frantic. “I know I’m in a dreadful, dreadful mess and you don’t care and you won’t help me out.”

“Why should I?” he inquired levelly. She did not reply. Julian shrugged said indifferently, “I’ll give you a suggestion anyhow.”

“What is it?” she asked sullenly.

“Don’t meet Clark at the house tonight. You see,” he explained airily, “I’m dining with Marthe. It might be awkward if the four of us met on the steps.”

Patricia telephoned to Clark and

CUT THIS OUT Excellent Recipe For Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers.

Secure from Lease Drug Co. or your druggist 1 ounce of Parmitin (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmitin used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

THE HOME KITCHEN By Jeanette Young Norton

Balance Meals For

The Growing Child

CALCIUM IN the food element is absolutely vital and is essential to the growth of sound teeth, bones and tissue. Too often the diet is woefully low in calcium, especially so the diets for growing children and for expectant and nursing mothers. The calcium of fresh leafy green lettuce and that of pasteurized whole milk should have representation in many of the regular meals and the suggestions here given all are rich in this food element. Besides these recipes, milk and salads should have an important part in every menu.

For instance, a roast beef dinner should begin with a cream of pea soup, and should have a salad. The dessert should include boiled custard with fruit and the beverage should be milk. The salad might well be a tomato and cheese salad easily made by filling cut tomatoes with a mixture made by blending six ounces of cream cheese with quarter cup mayonnaise, then chilling.

With a Steak Dinner

If you are having a steak dinner then serve tomato juice and with the boiled steak baked potatoes and creamed onions. An ideal dessert with this meal, one high in calcium content is frozen cheese and date salad, full of valuable food content and delicious as well. Blend three ounces cream cheese and three tablespoons milk to a smooth paste.

Add half cup mayonnaise and blend till perfectly smooth. Fold the mixture into half cup of cream, whipped. Then add half cup each of finely chopped dates and chopped blanched almonds and two teaspoons lemon juice. Freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator. Unmold on crisp leaves and garnish with maraschino cherries. Cut in slices and serve with lemon cream mayonnaise.

Banana and Nut Salad

Fold one-third of a cup of mayonnaise, two and a half tablespoons confectioner’s sugar, dash of salt and one and a half tablespoon lemon juice into one-third of a cup of cream that has been whipped. Makes about one cup of the delicious lemon cream mayonnaise.

Banana and cashew nut salad makes a delightful finish to a luncheon that is rendered valuable in calcium content by including a rich cream of corn soup. Milk or cocoa made with milk should be the beverage. Sugar cookies can be served with the beverage.

For the salad blend quarter cup mayonnaise and three tablespoons cashew nuts thoroughly into six ounces cream cheese. Cut four bananas each in half and each half in crosswise sections. Sprinkle bananas with one tablespoon lemon juice. Use half a banana to each salad. Put the sections together with the mayonnaise, cheese and nut mixture. Serve on crisp lettuce garnished with whole cashew nuts.

Today A Review of the Day’s News By Arthur Brisbane

IT IS SAID—let us hope that it is true—that President Roosevelt, with all the other things on his hands, finds time to worry about the fact that Germany sails the seas in lighter than air ships, running a regular ferry service, Germany to Brazil, with side trips to the Chicago exposition and back across the Atlantic to Germany.

The United States looks on, sends an occasional transatlantic air mail letter on a Zeppelin.

It would take a small fraction of one of the billions that the United States is spending, to put this country ahead of every other nation in transatlantic flight.

MR. LITCHFIELD, who built the Akron, a ship sacrificed by a stupid navy rule that when a man learns how to run a dirigible he must quit and go back to sea service, declares that a regular air service could be established around the world in 16 days with “three hops by dirigible, and part way by heavier than air plane.”

The dirigible would fly from New York to southern Spain, whence passengers to Europe would be dispersed by heavier than air planes.

The next Zeppelin stop would be from southern Spain to the Dutch East Indies, from the East Indies to Manila by plane, from the Philippines across the Pacific to Oakland or some other Pacific coast port by Zeppelin, and from the Pacific coast to New York by one of the airplane lines.

IF PRESIDENT Roosevelt really plans putting this country ahead of the whole world, in regular air transportation, around the world or from New York across the Pacific and the Atlantic oceans only, he will do a great deal to inspire respect for this country everywhere.

And the thing could be done in a really big way for less than the cost of one single battleship, that if war came would have to be hidden away, because, otherwise, some air pilot would surely sink it.

“BEST MINDS” worry about inflation, not realizing that inflation is already here. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation demands another thousand million dollars. “A thousand millions” is the financial unit now.

Whether government keeps its head buried in the sand in ostrich-fashion and insists on printing interest-bearing bonds, instead of paying out new money and saving the interest, makes no difference.

Inflation with yellow paper promises to pay, bearing interest, or inflation with green promises to pay without interest, is still inflation.

The difference is that you inflate wisely if you don’t insist on putting an extra burden on taxpayers by paying interest that isn’t necessary.

DUTCHMAN PAYS FOR REICH FIRE

Marinus Van Der Lubbe, 24, Unemotional As He Faces Death

(By Associated Press)
LEIPZIG, Germany, Jan. 10.—Marinus Van Der Lubbe, 24-year-old Dutch stonemason, was beheaded today for firing the German Reichstag building in Berlin last February. He had repeatedly confessed setting the fire, but steadfastly refused to divulge any information as to whether he had any accomplices.

Four Others Acquitted
Van Der Lubbe had been under sentence of death since December 23, when the supreme court convicted him and acquitted four co-defendants.

Attempts by the Dutch government to gain a lighter sentence for the young Hollander were unavailing. Last night Van Der Lubbe was informed by the Leipzig prison governor that justice must take its course, but the announcement failed to rouse him from the stupor in which he remained virtually throughout the long trial.

Van Der Lubbe did not reply to the question of whether he wanted a clergyman to attend him on the last walk to the guillotine—nor did he express any special wish. At 7:25 o'clock this morning, a few strokes of the prison bell announced to the outer world that the guillotine had extracted the extremists' penalty.

When the warden entered Van Der Lubbe's cell and told him his last hour had come, the condemned man arose and after being shaved, was led into the courtyard.

Shows No Emotion
Without showing the least emotion, Van Der Lubbe with bowed head listened as the death sentence again was read by Wilhelm Bueger, presiding judge during the trial.

He silently shook his head when asked if he wanted to make a statement.

Then the executioner, Herr Goebler, dressed in evening clothes and wearing white gloves, laid his hand on Van Der Lubbe's shoulder. Meekly, the young man ascended the scaffold where he was tied down.

As Goebler pressed a button Van Der Lubbe's head rolled into a basket or sawdust. In 30 seconds, it was all over. Before a clergyman had finished a prayer, the executioner called out: "Justice has been done!"

Projected Flight Longest Ever Attempted In Formation

Schneider, destroyer Schenck, mine layer Breeze and mine sweeper Whippoorwill, each prepared for any emergency that might arise and ready to provide weather information for the aerial squadron.

While navy officials continued to look upon the flight merely as a "routine transfer" for the men involved it will mean following a sky-line that has been successful in 1925 and failed although their flight only five times in history.

Two navy seaplanes tried it first were rescued. Lieut. Lester Matland and Allen Hazenberger made the jump in June 1927, and were followed the next month by Ernest Smith. Five planes tried it in August, 1927, and only two got across. "Lost at sea" was the fate of the others.

The last successful flight was by Capt. Charles Kinsford-Smith and C. P. T. Ulin, in May, 1928. In the lead ship the 101st, at the take-off will be Lieut. Com. McGinnis as pilot-navigator.

Pilots of the other craft are Lieut. F. A. Davis, Lieut. T. D. Quinn, Lieut. J. Perry, Lieut. J. K. Averill, and Lieut. H. J. Roberts.

BUCKEYE COACH REFUSES OFFER

State campus, have raised such a hue and cry to make the Buckeye situation unprecedented in Ohio football coaching history. No attacks have yet been made on the records of his teams; the criticism is based on the one defeat, by Michigan, ranked as the greatest team in America by the Dickinson scoring system, and the allegations of Grant P. Ward and the Ohio State Lantern that Willaman "doesn't know how to handle men."

Tribute to Willaman
The offer for the University of Texas post was in itself a tribute to Willaman's coaching abilities and was given him through W. E. Metcalf, chairman of that university's athletic council via long distance telephone Monday night. Willaman is also mentioned prominently as a possible successor to Harry Kipke, Michigan mentor, should the latter accept the position offered him as head grid coach at Yale.

PREPARE STATE LIQUOR TESTS

Board Compiling Exams For Approximately 1,000 Jobs

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 10.—Those who have their eyes on the 1,000 or more jobs to be furnished by the state's liquor stores today apparently had more than a month to wait before they could even take examinations and attempt to qualify.

Col. John A. Hughes, liquor control director, said it will take another week to draft the examinations and effect the machinery to hold them. The law then requires notices of the examinations must be advertised for two weeks prior to the date they are held.

Those who take the tests and obtain posts in the state stores can expect compensation uniform with "similar employee classification" in other state departments, the director said. He quoted no concrete figures, however.

Tentatively, the liquor control board, approved of a manager, a cashier and the necessary clerk in each place of sale. A test will be given in each county, the director said.

CWA Workers, Fired, Back At Jobs Today

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 10.—More than 100 CWA workers, laid off yesterday by their foreman, Eugene Callan, returned to work today after Ray Noble, county relief director, informed Callan the men could not be discharged because of communistic leanings or because they formed communist organizations.

Asks Specific Charges
Noble yesterday asked the foreman to refer to him specific charges of cases in which politics played a part in appointment of CWA workers, promising discharge of such men.

Callan yesterday sent 120 workers home, charging they were former communistic committee members, and that politics was dictating appointment of workers.

Noble told Callan that men could be laid off if bad weather interfered with the work, but not because of their opinions. Noble promised to dismiss anyone whose job came from political sources.

Meanwhile Congressman-at-Large Charles Truax, to whom Callan complained that Republicans were getting an unduly large number of CWA jobs, promised to take the matter up with Harry Hopkins, federal administrator of CWA.

Desperados Kidnap Woman; Use Her As Shield In Gunplay

MONROE CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—Four quick-shooting desperados, who yesterday abducted a 40-year-old woman to shield them from police bullets, were hunted throughout northeast Missouri today by possees.

Mrs. Roy Carpenter, wife of a local school teacher, hostage of the gunmen, or more than six hours, was left last night at the farm home of Julius Jackson, for miles north of here, after she and members of the Jackson family had been warned not to notify officers before midnight.

In their flight from Hannibal, where they stole an automobile the quartet twice engaged officers in gun battles.

Back home today, Mrs. Carpenter calmly told how the robbers threatened to take her children as hostage, then decided to carry her off as a shield against police bullets.

Win Over Potters Will Rank Salem Among District's Leaders

N. E. O. AREA RICH IN STRONG COURT TEAMS THIS YEAR

East Liverpool Squad, Scheduled to Play Here Friday Night, Looms As Real Threat To Ruin Quaker Squad's Perfect Record

Basketball today loomed as the medium for Salem High's regaining its lost athletic prestige as the school's varsity, tutored by Herbert Brown, attained ranking among the leading Northeastern Ohio aggregations and needed only a victory over East Liverpool to attain a place among the state's most powerful quintets.

How to gain that coveted triumph over the powerful Pottery City squad was the important task being worked on this week by Salem's varsity and the varsity tilters for the Liverpool team, among the best produced by the southern county school in years, will battle Brown's product here Friday night.

The contest is one of the most important to face the Red and Black squad all season.

Many Schools Unbeaten

More than a score of Ohio scholastic machines of Class A ranking possess perfect records for early-season games and coming weekends will find these teams facing test after test. The campaigns will be climaxed by district tournaments in various sections of the state followed by the Ohio interscholastic tournament at Columbus.

Salem High this season will compete in the sectional event which will be held at East High gymnasium in Youngstown. The tourney for the last two years was held at Warren Harding gym in Warren but, because of many complaints resulting from bad seating arrangements and the small court, the transfer was made by Ohio Commissioner H. R. Townsend.

Before the Quakers can turn their attentions to tournaments, however, they must go through the remainder of their current schedule, one that brings them into competition with many really strong combines and topping that list of powerful aggregations is the Liverpool High varsity. The Potters have bowed in only one game this season and are confident of handing the Brownmen a decisive trouncing.

Teams Evenly Matched

The teams are evenly matched in every respect, strong on defense and offense, and with a group of stars that, when the time comes, should go far in sectional tournament events. A win for Salem over the Potters will do much to establish Salem's quintet as the district's leading threat and at the same time will give the squad a place among the state's topnotch aggregations.

Other teams of the state may have perfect records just as the Quakers but not many of them can lay claim to victories over such rivals as those played by Salem.

The game with Liverpool will test the power of the Salem team in more than one respect and will also bring the locals into another clash in defense of their county championship title. It should be as thrilling an encounter as has been played between the two ancient foes in many a season and a capacity crowd of enthused followers of each team will in all probability be present.

Two Games Scheduled

A block of tickets has been sent to East Liverpool while reserved seats are also on sale here, at the Lease drug store and the Virgil L. Battin store. Reserve teams will collide in the prelin at 7:30 and the main game's booked at 8:30. Ray Reasbeck will handle the preliminary and Hal Smith of Massillon will referee the principal argument. The Liverpool game is the only

MIRACLE CAGERS DEFEAT BROWN'S IN LEAGUE FRAY

Trade Class Upsets Dope In 24-11 Triumph Over Smith Tossers

Joe Kelley's Miracle Men gained their second consecutive victory in Class A league competition Tuesday night at the Memorial gym as they easily trounced the Brown Heating & Supply team, 24 to 11.

The Trades Class team also came through with a brilliant triumph, upsetting the Smith Creameries, 24 to 11.

The Miracle Men started off towards victory in the first period and held a nine-point, 14-5 advantage at halftime. They increased this lead to 12 points in the third period and were never threatened at any time during the battle.

The losers were held to seven field goals while the Miracle Men shot in 14. Herb Brown led the victors' attack with 13 points.

Up until their game with Scienceville last Saturday the Ceramics were among the state's unbeaten quintets. Scienceville, however, topped Liverpool, 28-23, and now Salem and East Palestine are the county's only undefeated aggregations. East Palestine, with an all-veteran team, has won three straight games and is the favorite in the Tri-County league title race.

South, Ursuline Strong

In Youngstown, South and Ursuline, the latter a new school, loom as the leading teams. South recently overwhelmed Struthers, 32-18, and is unbeaten, while Ursuline has won five straight games with strong teams in the Mahoning area. East and Chaney are both weak, but Rayen is fairly strong, although its record is nothing at all.

Akron has three undefeated high schools in Garfield, North and West. Garfield has won nine consecutive contests while the North Eskimos have shown even greater power although their triumphs number one less. West has played but two games, winning both. Garfield's most recent victories were over Wellsville, 24-23, and Cuyahoga Falls, 32-27. North last week wallowed an unbeaten Newton Falls club, 41-21, and trounced Cleveland Lakewood, 44 to 18.

West overwhelmed St. Vincent's, 30-15, Saturday.

Canton Undefeated

Another district aggregation to be heard from is Canton McKinley, which is by far the strongest Stark county team, according to early-season performances. And, considering further the power and records of sectional aggregations, don't overlook the district championship Scienceville team, a beaten but still strong Dover club, a strong Louisville quintet and, in another section of the state, Springfield, victor over Dover.

In every corner of the Buckeye state there are powerful cage quintets and the team that comes through as Ohio champion this year will certainly earn that honor. It's too early, however, to place much thought on that state crown, for every team has its work cut out in winning pre-tourney contests.

Tri-County League

Undefeated basketball quintets of Louisville and East Palestine High schools will participate in the only two Tri-County league battles this week. During the week, schools of the circuit will engage in but six engagements.

Both of the leading teams face weak opposition in their tilts. Louisville will play host to Leontonia, cellar occupant of the league and East Palestine will invade Columbiana Friday night.

Lisbon Faces Minerva

Another game is scheduled for the same evening between Lisbon and Minerva but the outcome of this game will not be reckoned in the regular league standings. This is the first of a home and home series between the two schools and there is a league ruling, designating that only the second game be included in the league ratings. The contest will be played at Minerva.

Lisbon is the only school of the league seeing action twice this week and will play a return game with Dalton on the home court Saturday night. Last week, Lisbon copped a 19 to 11 verdict at Dalton.

In the two other non-league frays listed for Friday night Boardman and Sebring play host to Youngstown schools. Boardman will meet South while Sebring clashes with Chaney. South, with a veteran team, opened its season last week by trouncing Struthers, 32 to 18.

The Tri-County league standings to date follow:

	W. L.	Pts.	Op.	Pct.
Louisville	3	0	107	54.1000

MOUNT CAGERS EASILY DEFEAT HEIDELBERG '5

Akron Five Beats Toledo; Oberlin, Wilmington Also Triumph

Four games in the Ohio conference, one in the Buckeye Athletic association and another contest without effect on any race were on tap in the Ohio basketball tonight after Tuesday night attractions heaped up basketball features in even tils throughout the state.

There were three Ohio conference clashes last night. Heidelberg opened its season at Alliance and the student princes were mauled by Mt. Union 38 to 21. The Mounties ran up a 38 point advantage in the first few minutes of play and never were headed.

Akron U. Wins

Akron university buried the Hoopsters from Toledo under a 34 to 22 score, the rubber city boys snapping baskets from all angles on the Toledo court.

Oberlin defeated Hiram 20 to 19, two free throws in the last minute of play deciding the contest. Lamp-on, a guard was Oberlin's sure-fingered hero, who put the game on ice.

In the lone Buckeye association game at Delaware, Ohio Wesleyan trimmed the claws of Ohio university's Bobcats 34 to 30.

Free throws gave Wilmington college a 30 to 28 victory over Dayton at Wilmington last night. The victors dropped in 14 from the foul line to win after trailing 14 to 9 at the half.

Cinci Wallops Centre

Cincinnati, working with precision and aided by the phenomenal shooting of Sack, a forward who looped 10 field goals, submerged their visitors from Centre college under a 59 to 13 avalanche.

A team that rolled up from Rio Grande to campus Martius emerged a 9 to 17 victor over the Marietta college quintet.

In four Ohio conference games, Heidelberg will make its second try at Kent; Wooster plays Ohio Northern; Otterbein meets Denison; and Baldwin-Wallace travels to Ashland.

Marshall and Wittenberg meet at Springfield in a Buckeye conference game that should produce some interesting basketball.

Committees have been appointed by Nick Nan, Jr., president of the Salem club to take charge of the arrangements of plans for the event. Johnny Ecker's orchestra will play.

Roumanian clubs joining in the event are from Salem, Alliance, Warren, Canton and Weirton, W. Va.

Mix French Wines—War Debts

SHIPMENT OF FRENCH WINE
SEN. WILLIAM E. BORAH

That Congress is determined to oppose any Administration measure to make the war debts in return for trade concessions or by any other means than payment in hard cash became apparent in the capital, if the approval of the House of Representatives is secured, the designation of France as a nation of cheaters and defaulting misers is anything to judge by. Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, denounced France during the House debate on the liquor tax bill, in the course of which he proposed a complete embargo on French wines and liquors until such time as that nation foregoes its debt-defaulting policy. Simultaneously in the Senate, William E. Borah, Senator from Idaho, rushed a resolution through the Upper House, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for a full report on sums paid and defaulted by debtor nations and laying the groundwork for forestalling any Administration attempt to settle the debts without the approval of Congress.

Ruth Chatterton, George Brent Again Teamed In "Female" Now At State

IT is a strange and unique role that Ruth Chatterton plays in her latest picture, "Female," at the State today and tomorrow. . . . It is also quite a different role from anything she has ever portrayed before, either on stage or screen.

Lives Dual Life
She lives, in her character role of "Alison Drake," a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde existence, being a big business woman by day and a flirtatious, fascinating siren at night. . . . When Alison inherits her father's prospering automobile business she decides to run it with an iron hand—and she does. . . . Unfortunately (for the employees, at least) she has one weakness—one that is rather cruel, to put it mildly. . . .

Alison has seen the man in the large firm (before she was made the head) treat the women employees with little consideration and she resolves to turn the tables. . . . She works it this way—whenever she sees a man about the office that at all appeals to her Ruth Chatterton she casually orders him to appear at her home that evening. . . . The result is that they inevitably fall in love with her, only to be rebuffed. . . . Eventually, however, she meets her equal in George Brent, who is perfectly willing to fulfill his duties as an engineer, but who flatly refuses the attention of his "boss," Alison. . . .

"Alison" Repents
Baffled by his coolness, Alison resorts to all her tricks and in the process comes dangerously near to wrecking the business her father had run so carefully. . . . And then, as you might have imagined, love blooms and the modern young lady is persuaded to repent. . . .

Ruth Chatterton and George Brent, married in private life, are an unusually successful couple on the screen. . . . You'll like them very much in "Female," and at last the talented Chatterton is cast in

Afraid of His Own Shadow

He Hasn't Learned to Live Within His Income!

DISPOSITION gone sour, nerves ready to snap, existence a misery. Life one round of unpaid bills—of stalling off the butcher, the tailor, the rent collector.

He'll have to get out of the mess himself. But he need never get INTO it again. For economy is a matter, first of budgeting — of balancing income against expenses IN ADVANCE.

Does this mean exchanging misery-living for MISERLY living? It does not! It means careful day-by-day buying; it means hunting for values and value-events where they're always found; it means BETTER living at LOWER cost; it means a word it means shopping and saving through the Salem News Ads — BY READING THEM EVERY DAY!

Won't some kind soul who's found this way out take pity—AND TELL HIM?
